"El Molino de los Secretos" is a flour mill dating back to 1200, made by the Order of Calatrava and restored in 2009.

In 2010 began to operate as a rural house with the 2 ears category with all its licenses. With a large client base, in November 2013 we were forced to abandon the project (for health reasons). It is currently rented privately during holiday periods (through Airbnb).

It consists of 400 m2 built, divided into living room, semi-industrial kitchen, toilet and hall on the ground floor. On the first floor: three bedrooms with a full bathroom, decorated with thematic motifs and a library room. On the second attic floor: four bedrooms with a full bathroom, also decorated with thematic motifs.

The mill is fully equipped. Television in all rooms and in the living room. Complete kitchen with all utensils, ovens, refrigerator, freezer, gas stove, dishwasher, washing machine and dryer in the pantry, chests and freezers, oil heating and heat-cold pump systems in the upper rooms.
