

country house for sale Relleu, Marina Baixa

Legend has it that deep within the mountains surrounding Relleu in Alicante, there lies a lost treasure, visible only to those brave enough to seek it.~~It is also said, as if part of another fanciful tale, that amidst the Sierra de Relleu, and accessible via a paved road, stands another of its best-kept secrets: a spectacular estate, let's call it "La Casa del Olivo," spread across approximately 250,000 m2, where an active plantation of 80 organic olive trees blankets the land like a tapestry.~~The bright property appeared among the mountain peaks like a verdant oasis, with a heart made of stone and wood in the form of a 120 m2 mansion. A space that welcomed those seeking refuge in its five rooms, a sanctuary for weary travelers. It also featured a second building, ready to be transformed into a personal retreat or a space for agricultural projects, complete with a tractor.~~The most cherished asset of "La Casa del Olivo," as the oldest locals say, was its water—a liquid treasure flowing from its own well and collection basin. A sophisticated irrigation system nourished the agricultural area and the gardens that adorned the estate. The large, bright enclosed porch allowed for connection with the surrounding mountains, perfect for sharing barbecue days while staying warm by the wood stove in winter, all while enjoying panoramic views stretching out to the sea.~~They say, as if it were a legend, that the mountains still echo with the stories of generations who enjoyed this oasis. And that the estate remains standing, waiting for new travelers to begin their journey alongside it and weave their stories among the olive trees.
