

house for sale Barrio De Granada, Alacantí

Spectacular views!!!! If there's any house with wonderful views of the Alhambra, this is undoubtedly one of them. A well-preserved Andalusian-style house with lots of light, located in Granada's most famous neighborhood, El Sacromonte. It consists of a spacious living room on the ground floor with a separate, fully equipped kitchen and full bathroom, and on the first floor, three large exterior bedrooms and a skylight through which we can access the spectacular terrace where we can enjoy the privileged location of this unique house. If you want to live in a unique place, this is undoubtedly the perfect escape from this special neighborhood, full of artists and historical figures, where art is everywhere. It's Granada's most distinctive neighborhood, world-famous for its cave dwellings and magnificent views, as well as being considered the birthplace of flamenco. Its flamenco and festive traditions are evident in the daily shows held in the zambras (caves used as tablaos), as well as in the spontaneous performances that can spring up at any time in the neighborhood's bars and terraces. Its distinctive appearance is also worthy of admiration, with its hillsides covered in prickly pears and its whitewashed houses, which the sun casts a deep red at sunset. This is an invitation to stroll through its nooks and crannies and let yourself be carried away by the neighborhood's charm.~If you identify with this way of life, this is your home.
