Rojales is a municipality in the Valencian Community, Spain. Located in the province of Alicante, in the region of Vega Baja del Segura, on the banks of the Segura River, which crosses the traditional center for two kilometers on its last route before emptying into the Mediterranean,[citation needed ] fact that justifies the existence of an ashlar bridge built in the time of King Charles III, in the 18th century, preserved and fully in use. Currently, it is a municipality with a strong increase in activities in the service sector, where tourism is in first place, being one of the most demanded. It has a very important cultural activity around its numerous museums (Archaeological-Paleontological, Huerta Museum, Holy Week Museum, Eco Museum), and theater, headquarters of the National Contest of Lullabies, Christmas Carols and Polyphony, one of the longest and most important in the country.
