

house for sale Torrejoncillo Del Rey, Mancha Alta

VILLAGE HOUSE on 2 floors, on corner, with magnificent views of pine forests and very well situated in the upper part of the village, very well connected to the motorway to Cuenca.

Situated on a plot of 175m² and with around 320m² constructed, this property has enormous potential for renovation, with all the qualities to become a great rural home or first home for people who enjoy the tranquillity of village life, with the proximity of being only an hour from Madrid and 15 minutes from Cuenca.

The building dates back to 1953 and represents one of the most emblematic corners of the village, with more than 24m of frontage, which gives it different orientations, lots of light and excellent views.

The roof has been entirely renovated in recent years and some of the rooms still have the hydraulic tiled floor of the period. It has a charming courtyard. The house is distributed over 2 floors, carriage entrance directly into the central courtyard of the house and a series of constructions for storerooms, barn, hayloft...which give it a unique character and a large number of possibilities for distribution in different rooms, areas or even individual flats.

It has a reform project and plans of the house.
